APRIL COURT DAY.

The big crowds in the city yesterday were somewhat suggestive of the good old days when April Court Day and "Stallion Show Day" attracted large crowds to Paris. The latter feature has fallen into the discard, and only a few "show" horses were on the scene.

There was a fair quality of stock on the market, with mules predominating. There were few sales, with a very light demand. A large number of "plug" horses constituted the equine portion of the market, with many changing hands. Good sales were made at the different stock trading barns. Caywood & McClintock sold at their barns ninety head of 800-pound cattle at $90.40 per head.

Merchants report the volume of business transacted as being above the average, with collections exceeding those of March. Tobacco money being one of the principal mediums toward the increase in trade.

Caywood & McClintock sold one pair of mules to Charles Thompson for $600; one mule to same for $235; two mares to R. A. Heaton for $260. This firm shipped Saturday one carload of cattle and two carloads of hogs to the Cincinnati market. The cattle cost them eleven cents per pound and the hogs eighteen cents.

For the first time in many months court day was enlivened by a series of personal encounters, in which knives and fists played prominent parts. Newton Herrington and Jason Howard, both of the county, became involved in an argument, which resulted in Howard receiving several cuts about the face and neck from a knife in the hands of Herrington. Herrington tried to make a get-away after the cutting and ran up High street to Tenth, where he was finally arrested by Patrolmen Lusk and Judy and placed in jail. He later gave bond and was released. Howard was sent to a physician to have his injuries given attention.

Charles Penn and Wm. H. Whaley, well-known farmers, came to blows near the corner of Main and Fourth streets. Penn later had a warrant issued for Whaley on a charge of breach of the peace. Another warrant for fighting on the street was issued and served on Whaley by Patrolman Lusk.

Cash Crowe became involved in an altercation with Charles Farley, of North Middletown, and in the mix-up treated Foley "rather roughly." Crowe was arrested by Chief Link and taken before Judge Martin, who assessed a fine of $15 and costs.

All three of the encounters happened near the same vicinity and in a short space of time.

BOURBON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE DECLARATES 33 PER CENT. DIVIDEND.

Since its organization seven years ago the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Co. has paid dividends aggregating 112 per cent. to its stockholders.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders the company declared a dividend of thirty-three per cent., after paying income taxes for 1919 and setting aside $12,000 for taxes for next year. Stock in the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Co. is now bid on the market at $185 a share, with practically none offered. The company is composed of the most prominent farmers and business men of the county.

While its capitalization is $100,000, the corporation is at present owner of property valued at probably $150,000. The average of the Paris loose leaf tobacco market, $41.10, is beyond that of any other market in Kentucky, or in the world. The market this season sold 2,500,000 pounds more than the previous year.

BIG INTEREST BEHIND PENNA-GRADE OIL.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Penngrade Oil and Gas Company was recently held in Louisville, Ky., at which the new company bought the assets of the old company and took over the entire management.

The Penngrade Oil and Gas Company has about sixty thousand acres of proven gas land and prospective oil land under lease in Floyd and Knott counties. They, at present, have a capacity of gas sufficient to supply about twelve million cubic feet per day and also have small oil production. Numerous drills will be set to work at once and it is expected that their output will be multiplied several times within the next few months.

About $750,000 stock will, at a later date, be offered for public subscription, the proceeds from sale of which, will go towards constructing the new twenty-six mile pipe line and also in drilling new wells and developing the territory for oil and gas. The foremost geologists have agreed that the Eastern Kentucky gas fields are as rich in production as the West Virginia fields, from which millions of dollars have come.

GOT YOUR $54.56?

Money in circulation in the United States this month is sufficient to give every man, woman and child $54.66; an increase of eight cents over the per capita circulation in March and an increase of $4.80 over a year ago. The total amount of money of all kinds available for paying bills is $5,847,363,641. The population is estimated to be 107,166,000, an increase of 44,000 since March.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Mr. Bruce Holladay has purchased of Judge Denis Dundon the property at the corner of Pleasant and Sixth streets. He will erect a home on the lot.

Mr. George D. Speakes, of the real estate firm of Harris & Speakes, Paris, purchased from Dan Isgrigg a lot on East Main street, 100 front by 386 feet in depth, at a private price. Mr. Speakes will build a five-room residence on the lot.

Mr. B. M. Lovell, who had made arrangements to visit relatives in Beaumont, Texas, deferred his visit owing to a telegram received from his son, Private E. K. Lovell, at Camp Jessup, near Atlanta, Ga., saying he would soon be at home for a brief visit.

Mr. O. L. Davis has purchased the old Presbyterian church property, now occupied by Mr. George W. Davis, as an undertaking establishment, for $5,000. Extensive improvements will be made in the property. The Davis undertaking establishment will continue to use the building.

CLEAN UP DAYS—APRIL 9TH AND 10TH.

The city carts will haul away trash free, beginning April 11. Be ready—carts only make one clean up canvas of each street; don't miss them.

TO THOSE INTERESTED IN THE TOBACCO INDUSTRY

At a meeting called in Lexington, March 28, of this year, a tentative organization of the loose leaf tobacco warehouses of this Commonwealth was formed, and in order that not only those who are associated or connected with the loose leaf tobacco warehouses, but all those who are interested in the planting and growing of the 1919 crop may be heard, relative to this organization, a meeting will be held in the Board of Trade Building, Third and Main streets, Louisville, at one o'clock p. m. Saturday, April 12, 1919. To this meeting every farmer who contemplates growing tobacco this year and every one who is directly or indirectly interested in the loose leaf warehouses of this State, or directly or indirectly interested in the tobacco industry, is most earnestly and cordially invited to attend this very important meeting, and join in the discussion as to the necessary course of procedure to prevent the planting of the contemplated acreage of tobacco in Kentucky this year, which, if carried out as contemplated, will undoubtedly result disastrously to those so engaged.

MISS PORTER'S RECITAL AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Dazey Moore Porter and Miss Ellen Blanding gave an artistic recital in the Paris High School Auditorium, Friday evening, for the benefit of the library of the High School. There was a large audience in attendance, and the affair was very successful, the receipts being about $100.

Miss Blanding sang "Land of the Sky Blue Water," "Woodland Voices," "The Swallows," "Mollie," "To Be Near You."

Miss Porter, who excels in reading, delighted her audience with a variety of selections, among them, "Who's Afraid?" "Taking A Rest," "The Going of The White Swan," "Pavilions Pavilions," "In Italy," "Her Letter," "Miranda On Marryin' For A Living," "An Eastern Symbol" and "That Old Sweetheart of Mine."

Miss Louise Connell, of Paris, played the accompaniments for Miss Blanding. The stage was artistically decorated with palms and spring flowers. The two principals were the recipients of lavish compliments and congratulations upon their renditions.

REVISION OF ASSESSMENT SHOWS INCREASE IN ACREAGE.

County Assessor Walter Clark and Deputy John J. Redmon have completed a revision of the county assessment, in which it is shown that there is a total acreage of land in the county of 182,849, instead of the previously reported acreage of 179,658. The report as given to THE NEWS shows the valuation of each precinct to be as follows:

Whites—Paris, $7,438,992; Millersburg, $2,211,097; Little Rock, 12,874,818; North Middletown, $3,218,764; Clintonville, $1,358,928; Hutchinson, $1,882,070; Centerville, $2,922,498; Ruddles Mills, $1,650,136; Non-residents—$2,775,312. Total, $26,823,366.

BOURBON COUNTY PROTESTS AGAINST NEW ASSESSMENT

FORMER CONGRESSMAN BOWDLE KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

At a meeting held at the court house Saturday afternoon, composed of prominent farmers and business men of the county, a formal protest against the increase in assessed values of Bourbon county lands, was entered. The new assessment made an increase amounting in all to $600,000, which was deemed unjust.

The meeting was called to order by County Judge George Batterson, who was made permanent chairman, with Sherman Stivers as secretary. Judge Batterson read a letter from the State Tax Commission announcing the proposed raise and tendering the county an opportunity to be heard. Speeches were made by several prominent farmers, all voicing disapproval of the increase.

A committee composed of Joseph W. Davis, A. B. Hancock and A. S. Thompson was appointed to select a committee to go to Frankfort and make the county's protest before the State Tax Commission. The committee retired and returned with the following list, who will make the trip to Frankfort:

Sam Houston, Robert Meteer, John Brennan, A. S. Thompson, Lee Stephenson, James McClure, J. C. Howard, John Woodford, Kenney Nichols, Sam Clay, Judge George Batterson, Mayor E. B. January, Judge Denis Dundon, D. C. Parrish, J. J. Redmon, Brutis Clay, Edward Burke, H. S. Caywood, John T. Collins, Woodford Buckner, W. D. McIntyre, Joe Penn Redmon, George Current, Jesse Turner and V. W. Ferguson.

LEE-KENT OIL COMPANY OPENS HEADQUARTERS.

The Lee-Kent Oil Company, common county business men, has leased common county business men, as leased the building of Mr. Bruce Holladay, opposite the Hotel Fordham, in which they will open their headquarters, with general offices there, in a few days. The room will be remodeled to suit the purposes of the oil company, which is a new-comer in the business field of this city.

The Lee-Kent Company starts in business with excellent prospects, having leases in proven oil territory that will bring them a good patronage. They have expert men in the field, whose business it will be to see that the Lee-Kent gets all the good oil that is coming to them. The officials of the Company are men of integrity and with a large experience in the business, and that they will make the Lee-Kent a successful oil concern goes without saying. The stock is selling well.

FUNDS FOR THE DAM

According to a statement given out by Mayor E. B. January, funds for the Paris Water Co.'s portion of the assessment for building a new dam, are now on deposit in a Paris bank.

Mayor January received a telegram Saturday from Mr. L. H. Fuller, president of the Paris Water Company, as follows:

"Putnam, Conn., April 5.

"E. B. January, Mayor, Paris, Ky:

"Have sent funds for what I understand to be one-half of the estimated cost of dam, to be deposited and held in escrow for that purpose. Should have sent before, but did not know that Mr. Dickson had returned.

"My Dear Mrs. Fuller:

"It would perhaps be a great consolation to you to know some of the details of your son, Corporal James Fuller, Co. E., 148th Infantry, of whom death no doubt you have been notified by the War Department.

"Corporal Fuller fell on the field of battle October 31, by machine gun fire, dying instantly, near the town of Olsene, Belgium.

"James' name has been mentioned in Division General Orders by Division Commander for his bravery and courageous actions under fire, and his deeds of valor are on record as one who made the supreme sacrifice in the cause of justice.

"James is buried in the vicinity of Olsene, Belgium. I do not know the exact location of his grave, but on completion of photos taken by the Grave Registration Service, they will be forwarded to you.

"Your son was a brave and courageous soldier, beloved by his comrades and all who knew him. He was always cheerful under the most trying circumstances.

"I, with the entire company, join together in extending to you our deepest sympathy in your great bereavement.

Raise the School Teachers' Pay.

Teachers should be paid more. That is the conviction that has sunk so deep in Washington, that it seems reasonable to expect that the influence and force of the Government will back the proposition, and seek to establish standards in such a manner as to effect action from authorities in the States and in the different school districts and separate educational units everywhere in the United States. The question has been argued over and over again, but repetition will do no hurt. Here we are as a people, making makeshift of the most important profession in existence. Double the pay is the demand, so that men and women can enter teaching as a profession, and expect to remain in it, just as do lawyers, doctors—and a limited number of editors—who are making more money than school teachers. The Federal Bureau of Education, as well as the organizations within the States, are insisting that this is a vital matter, and that something along constructive lines must be done to meet the situation. During the days when every train coming into Washington was unloading whole platoons of maidens fair, bent upon doing their patriotic duty, and incidentally drawing a nice Government salary, there were a great many school teachers enlisting for the war jobs. Results proved that while the most of these were doubtless very good school teachers that they were without training for clerical work, and that from the standpoint of rendering a public service that they had much better have remained at home, teaching the young idea how to shoot, and in spending their spare time in the different war activities of their own community. But these young women felt that they were not properly compensated in their own communities, and therefore they gave up their work in order to answer a call from their Government, which said, on the screens and elsewhere: "I need thee every hour," or words to that effect.

Lastly, as a minister in the Unitarian church said, at the conclusion of his sermon Sunday morning: "If among these many words you have heard the still, small voice, harden not your hearts." This friendly adaptation is directed specifically to school boards, officials and all others who have a hand in fixing the salaries of school teachers.

Government and Private Insurance.

In June, 1918, seventy marines fell in battle in an attack somewhere on the Marne. Fifty-seven of them carried the maximum of $10,000 insurance; one was insured for $8,000, and twelve for $5,000. The government obligation was $500,000; but it was not the case of an obligation deferred for years until an act of Congress would recognize the claim, as with the old pension system.

Up to the end of 1918 the United States Government had paid out to the veterans of the Revolution, the war of 1812, Indian wars, the Mexican war, the Civil War and the war with Spain, the vast sum of $5,215,528,780 pensions. In the light of these figures it will perhaps develop that the war insurance legislation of October, 1917, under the provisions of which 4,000,000 policies, totaling $86,000,000,000 in insurance has been written, will prove to be a good stroke of business on the part of Uncle Sam.

Captain Edward S. Brashears, a leading Washington insurance man, who helped organize the War Risk Insurance Bureau, is back at the head of his general agency, and in an interview he says: "My advice to every man who took out Government insurance is the same now as it was when I was in the service. I tell them to keep their insurance." Captain Brashears says that there are sixty million insurance prospects in the United States, and he gives it as his opinion that the government by entering the field, is creating a psychology favoring bigger policies that local agents in every town in the country can well afford to build on. He says that every man who has taken insurance through the Government will be a booster who will induce his friends and relatives to take insurance. The larger policies written by the Government, he says, simply represent the increase in values and in the "high cost of living." Besides," adds Captain Brashears, "every man who takes out a life insurance policy, whether with the Government, or a private company, becomes a budding capitalist—and that's where the Bolshevik idea loses again."

Urge Tree Planting.

Arbor Day will take on an added significance this year because of the action of the Secretary of Agriculture in his letter to the Governor of every State urging trees be planted in memory of the Yanks who gave their lives in the fight for democracy.

The Department of Agriculture promises its utmost support in providing trees and in advising as to varieties and methods of planting.

The letter of Secretary Houston is highly praised in Washington, especially the paragraph reading, "Along with the other memorials that will be erected to our heroes, we can easily discover ways in which we may simply pay our tribute to them. We can keep fresh our memory of what they gave; and we can perpetuate their names in familiar places. We may do this by adorning with young trees, each named for a fallen soldier, our waysides, our yards and our pleasure places. This year we may give to Arbor Day a meaning more profound, a purpose more exalted, yet also an association more personal."

WHAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS.

Good Looks! It's a new Woman's Home Companion department and Grace Margaret Gould is writing it and the March issue ushers it in:

"Think for a moment how the prettiest face you ever saw would look without your hair! Very often it is the hair that does the whole trick. It softens and gives the right expression. Very often, too, we remember our friends by their hair, although we do not realize it. In fact, the hair is a part of costume and, like the costume, it is governed by fashion.

"You can't wear an old-fashioned coiffure with a new-fashioned gown without looking absurd. Ringlets and straight, severe lines don't go together.

"But hair, even at its prettiest, is raw material. There is really no such thing as sweet disorder in hair. It has the habit of being disorderly in wrong and unexpected places, sticking up and flattening down just where you don't want it to. Remember, if you get your hair wrong you may look like Betsy Bobbit."

ALFALFA WINS ITS WAY.

The acreage of alfalfa in Kentucky is growing quite rapidly. The farmers are learning that it is cheaper for them to lime their land than it is for the Western grower to irrigate his fields. Of course, farmers have to learn to grow alfalfa just as they would any other crop with which they were not thoroughly familiar.

The farmer, who has not grown this wonderful forage plant, but is interested, can now secure "Alfalfa," Circular No. 70, which is absolutely fresh off the press. It has up-to-the-minute information concerning the preparation of the land, the care of the crop and the harvesting of alfalfa. The bulletin is free to the farmer who drops the College of Agriculture, at Lexington, a line.

W. J. Cain, of 504 Fifth avenue, south, Nashville, is the owner of a big hotel and sells lots of good things to eat every day, but until recently he could not eat much at all himself.

"Meritone fixed me up, though, and put my stomach in such good condition that I can eat a breakfast of pork chops and eggs and enjoy it," Mr. Cain said recently.

"Besides stomach trouble I also was run down all over," he said. "I felt so weakened and bad that I could hardly force myself to get up in mornings."

"Since taking Meritone, however, I feel so well and strong that I'm able to supervise all the work in my thirty-room hotel."

Mr. Cain is only one of many prominent people who have recommended Meritone because of benefits it has brought them. Meritone has no superior for stomach, liver or kidney trouble, catarrh, rheumatism and the like or for building up a strong system.

TROPHY TRAIN AND BAND TO VISIT THIS CITY.

A trophy train which is booked to reach Paris Sunday, April 20, will contain artillery, arms, accoutrements and many articles captured from the Germans, a United States naval band of 30 pieces or more, captured German helmets and probably a tank train.

These will figure in the campaign for the Victory Loan in Kentucky, according to letters and telegrams received from Cleveland headquarters by Mr. J. J. Williams, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, and corner Rudolph Davis, publicity director for the Bourbon Division.

The band will give a concert in Paris on April 20.

About 369 helmets have been allotted to this district, which includes 56 counties. It is not known how they are to be distributed, but it is thought that they will be used as awards for the workers or for large subscribers to the loan.

Mrs. Lyman Chalkley, State woman's chairman for the district, has been notified that women workers will receive medals made from cannon captured at Chateau Thierry, each of which will be engraved with the name of the recipients.

April 14—Lexington.
April 15—Hazard.
April 16—Jackson.
April 16—Winchester (night).
April 17—Richmond.
April 18—Nicholasville.
April 19—Georgetown.
April 20—Paris.

April 19—Somerset, Burnside, Stearns, Junction City.
April 29—Lancaster, Stanford.
April 21—Mt. Vernon, Livingston, East Bernstadt, London and Corbin.
April 22—Williamsburg, Barbourville, Pineville.
April 23—Middlesborough, Harlan, Lynch.
April 24—Winchester, Beattyville, Jackson.
April 25—Hazard, Whitesburg, Fleming.
April 26—Mt. Sterling, Olive Hill.
April 27—Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pineville.

Out of a clear sky and from way down in Kentucky there came to M. Laundon, publicity director, last week, a pointed, pithy question. Victor V. Vinson, publisher of the Estill Tribune, at Irvine, Kentucky, wrote on the edge of a proof sheet of the feature plate which bore pictures of the medal to be awarded all volunteer workers in the Victory Loan this question:

"Do you think the country publisher will be cited to receive one of these medals?"

A little consideration of what the newspaper publishers have done to put the four past loans across and what they are going to do to put the Victory Loan across made only one answer possible. The answer is yes.

Mr. Jesse Scott, of near Ruddles Mills, who recently underwent a surgical operation at the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, is reported as being greatly improved, and will soon be able to leave the institution.

Out of a clear sky and from way down in Kentucky there came to M. Laundon, publicity director, last week, a pointed, pithy question. Victor V. Vinson, publisher of the Estill Tribune, at Irvine, Kentucky, wrote on the edge of a proof sheet of the feature plate which bore pictures of the medal to be awarded all volunteer workers in the Victory Loan this question:

"Do you think the country publisher will be cited to receive one of these medals?"

A little consideration of what the newspaper publishers have done to put the four past loans across and what they are going to do to put the Victory Loan across made only one answer possible. The answer is yes.

Mr. Jesse Scott, of near Ruddles Mills, who recently underwent a surgical operation at the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, is reported as being greatly improved, and will soon be able to leave the institution.

RED CROSS NURSES TO TEACH DISEASE PREVENTION

Thirty Red Cross nurses back from the war hospitals of Europe will teach prevention and control of disease from chautauqua platforms this summer in a new and far-reaching public health campaign. The lectures to be delivered by the Red Cross nurses will vary somewhat with the conditions of the community, and the personality of the speakers, but the message will be the same everywhere.

First, there will be the plea for the employment of a public health nurse in every community. In communities where no organizations exist Red Cross chapters will be urged to establish a nursing service financed by chapter funds. Elsewhere the work will be carried on in co-operation with State Boards of Health and Education, the State Tuberculosis League and other State health organizations.

The nurses will explain the importance of education in the matter of home hygiene and care of the sick with a view to combating contagion in the home and keeping the health of the family at the highest possible point. The question "Can You Cook" will be asked of every woman, and the Red Cross course in dietetics brought to the attention of every woman who should know the fundamentals of simple home cooking for the sick and the well.

Nurses all over the country will be urged to enroll with the Red Cross if they have not already done so.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

This plan was originally worked out by the Red Cross Department of Nursing, of which Miss Clara Noyes is the acting head in co-operation with the speakers bureau under the direction of Dr. Thomas E. Green.

"During the year 1918, influenza and its consequent pneumonia killed nine times as many persons as were killed among our soldiers and marines in Europe. Under present conditions probably 10% of our entire population will eventually die of tuberculosis, a disease which cost the United States annually $1,500,000,000. Typhoid is continually epidemic somewhere and carries away thousands of otherwise healthy lives every year, and typhoid is purely and simply the result of eating and drinking dirt.

"Seventy-five per cent. of 800,000 men rejected in the draft for physical disability was the result of preventable disease. Of the million people who died in the United States last year 500,000 ought to be alive today.

"The difficulty has been to persuade the great masses of people that sickness, like war and famine, is the result of simply violation of ordinary natural law.

"The American Red Cross coming out from the tremendous duties and obligations of its war service faced at once the widespread human suffering caused by war. It found problems of food and reconstruction of such magnitude as must be financed by governments. No voluntary organization could handle their solution. No voluntary gifts could entirely provide for their elimination.

"In turning its thought therefore to the particular object which its future activities shall be directed it is natural that the American Red Cross should face the great facts and problems connected with public health. So during the summer thirty or more returned army nurses from overseas, Red Cross nurses returning to duty at home, will proclaim a gospel of public health, of sanitation, of cleanliness, of wholesomeness and happiness."

WASHINGTON BRED SHEEP.

As fine sheep were bred exclusively in England, Washington tried blooded stock. He had his troubles for he wrote Arthur Young, the best English farmer of that time: "I had improved that species of my stock so much as to get 5½ pounds of wool as the average of the fleeces of my flock—and at the last shearing they did not yield me 2½ pounds. By producing (if I am able) good rams and giving the necessary attention, I hope to get them up again, for they are with me, as you have declared them to be with you, that part of my stock in which I most delight."

STAGE IS SET FOR VICTORY LOAN

The authorization of the Victory Loan by Congress is the first step in the final and greatest of the campaigns for finances to pay up the expenses incurred in winning the world war. For some days there was an outward fear that there might be some hitch over the passage of the bill, but all of this was set aside on March 2 when the Senate, by an overwhelming vote, passed the measure.

Under the provisions of the bill, according to Washington dispatches, the United States Treasury shall sell $7,000,000,000 of new short term notes and $1,000,000 for advances by the War Finance Corporation in extending American Foreign commerce.

With the passage of the bill by Congress the necessary machinery throughout the United States was inaugurated to make the large loan the most popular in the world. Previous campaigns for bonds and notes were for the purpose of buying munitions and supplies. All of the machinery was going at the highest rate of efficiency in the history of the world when the Teutonic power capitulated in a decided defeat.

The present campaign for the sale of short term notes is to bring home the boys, and otherwise straighten out the tremendous financial responsibilities that have been incurred in winning the war. The President and other government officials have been called for the funds not only to meet obligations which must be met, but also demonstrate to the world that universal democracy is as popular in peace as it was as an object in war.

Throughout the country those in charge of the various campaigns accept the responsibilities of popularizing the issue with the same enthusiasm as the members of the House of Representatives and the Senate did in passing the measure. The issue will be the greatest peace loan in the history of mankind. It is a demonstration, and will be accepted as such, of the hearty co-operation of the 100,000,000 American people in fighting to make all countries safe places to live in.

Of all issues authorized since the United States entered the war two years ago, the Victory Loan should be the most popular. It is essential that citizens of every walk in life participate in it. Laborer, business man, professional man, house-wife—all must accept their responsibilities in the same spirit as does President Wilson and the members of Congress.

LIKE TO BE STUNG

(New York World)

The announcement by a hotel proprietor that he intends to reduce restaurant prices 20 per cent. "because food is cheaper" will hardly excite expectations of a general decrease in the cost of hotel living. Among New York's many hotel keepers it is only natural that one should manifest a Quixotic disposition to favor his patrons.

Prices are high at New York's great restaurants because an increasing number of people want to pay them and stand in line for the opportunity. They are high because the millions of persons who come to New York in the course of the year with money to spend look on a little extortion as a part of the game and take pride in telling the folks back home "how much it cost."

It is due to these abnormal conditions that the trend of hotel prices is ever upward. There might be a different story to tell if Philadelphia or some other city became the Mecca for the country's "spenders." But while the demand exists, while everybody who has made money comes to New York to get rid of it, how is it logically to be expected that hotel-keepers will float their good fortune by voluntarily reducing prices? That would be a sure way, in the opinion of most of them, to discourage patronage.

Law of Life.

A thought, good or evil; an act, in time a habit, so runs life's law; what you live in your thought world, that, sooner or later, you will find objectified in your life.—Ralph Waldo Trine.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DAN德RUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle scraggly, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as soft and pretty as anything that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A small bottle will double the beauty of your hair.

DAWN OF PEACE BRINGS ITS OWN RESPONSIBILITIES.

When the armistice was signed last November 11, the first sensation of the allied world was that of surprise. The Allies had set their teeth and were preparing to go grimly on, fighting for years if need be. Then came the German collapse, expected doubtless by Marshal Foch, by Generals Pershing and Haig, but with a sense of surprise by the rest of the world.

Never was there a greater dawning than the coming of that day of peace to the world. It marked the end of Kaiserism. It was the final crashing downfall of Kaiserdom and "Deutschum" that had threatened the world for nearly fifty years. The Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs left their thrones vacant. The end of an old and evil dream had come. The hideous contempt of a world ruled by overlords of Postdam faded.

It was the beginning of what ought to be a brighter day for all of Europe and for the world. On that day world Democracy was given its chance. It gave the inhabitants of earth an outlook into a future that should be free of wars for generations.

But the signing of the armistice was only the first step in a mighty task of rehabilitating a shattered world. The Peace Congress with all its weighty deliberations is the next step. Even its labors cannot be final and complete when the treaties are signed. For the provisions that are agreed upon must be carried out. It will be necessary to see that they are carried out.

The German chaos must be made orderly; Russia must be put in order; Bolshevism, a menace and a threat, must go; the Balkans, the most dangerous spot in Europe for a generation must change with them. All this, too, means further American financial support of the stricken countries. And this financial aid means Liberty Bond. That is one of the ways of the Fifth Liberty Loan and why the purchase of War Savings and Thrift Stamps should be continued.

A LAWYER'S DUTY.

(New York Telegraph)

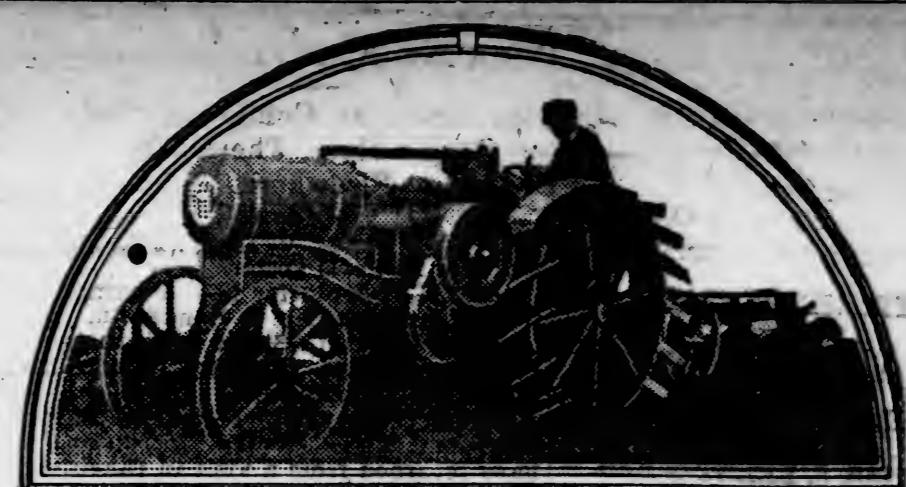

A man was convicted of murder in the first degree, and the newspapers say, "the counsel for the prisoner announced that he immediately would appeal the case." Why appeal the case? Lawyers need to be told what their duty is once in a while. In the case mentioned a young married man was jealous of attentions paid to a young woman not his wife by another man. So great was his jealous anger that he shot and killed the other. Witnesses told the plain story of the murder to Judge and jury and the man was convicted. He will be sentenced to the death chair in a few days.

But why his attorney appeal the case? Does he, in his folly, imagine it to be his business to save a man from punishment? If he does he does not know why lawyers exist. The attorney's duty toward a felon was defined by the great lawyer who defended the slayer of McKinley. He said he appeared in court to see that the rights of the prisoner were safeguarded, and that he had a fair trial. There is nothing more for a lawyer to do. If a man slay another and has his day in Court, entering therein with the presumption that he is innocent until his guilt is proven, he has had all rights that he is entitled to, and lawyers waste time and bring law into disrepute by their unusually futile efforts to save killers.

Here's the big work, little cost tractor—the Titan

THE Titan 10-20 has been on the market for years, and has made good without reservation. 10 horsepower at the draw bar—20 horsepower at the belt.

A well-balanced tractor that is suited to all farm power work. It drives easily, affords maximum pulling power for its weight, and is suited in every way to the general run of farm work. Not too large for the small farm, yet large enough to handle a great volume of work.

Use it with an Oliver Plow—

We recommend that you use an Oliver plow with your Titan tractor because it means the best plowing under all conditions. The combined rolling coulter and jointer buries all trash and weeds at the bottom of the furrow; the stop device maintains an even depth of furrow; the plow points enter and leave the ground first, making it possible to plow clear to the ends of the field; and the trip rope control operates easily from the driver's seat on the tractor.

We have a full line of Oliver plows as well as the Titan tractor here at our salesroom.

LOUISVILLE VISITED BY DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 4.—Thirty thousand dollars' damage may be increased to five times that sum—resulted from a spectacular blaze in the Kentucky Malt & Grain Company's malt house, or barley elevator, on the south side of Maple Street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth, Wednesday morning, when the Fire Department extinguished in two hours.

The sixth, seventh and eight floors and the roof of the sheet metal and frame building, were burned away and about $15,000 worth of grain on those floors and some $5,000 worth of hoisting and drying machinery were destroyed. The destroyed portions of the building can be replaced for $10,000, it was estimated.

Water soaked some $120,000 worth of grain in the floors below which the flames did not reach, and whether any of this can be salvaged remains to be determined. If the grain sprouts before used it will be worthless.

A GOOD WAY TO SAVE

"In times like these when economy is so essential, I know of no better way to save than to have the entire family shod with Neolin Soles," writes B. F. Williams, Rochester, N. Y.

In his letter Mr. Williams tells of a pair of Neolin-soled shoes which he has worn constantly for four months. "The soles still look like new," he says.

You, too, will think there is no better way to save, when once you have tried shoes with these long-wearing, comfortable, and waterproof soles. They come in many styles for every member of the family. And good repair shops carry Neolin Soles for re-soling. HOW TO MAKE "HAY" FOR THE RAINY DAY.

Higher rates of wages paid during the war have opened to workers the choice of various new standards of action—they cannot all be called standards of "living."

The near-sighted have used their unusual wages to indulge in all sorts of extravagance which gave little satisfaction and contributed nothing to permanent family stability. Where they are not harming themselves, they are cultivating tastes which they cannot hope permanently to gratify.

Others, the far-sighted ones, have used their increase in wages to improve their comfort up to the full efficiency point for themselves and their families, and are thinking carefully before they spend their surplus. Many are investing wisely in homes or working other well-considered investment purchases.

The wisest of all are putting a large share of their earnings into War Savings Stamps or savings banks to provide for necessities that may arise, for the education of children, etc., and particularly to establish a "turn around" fund that will enable them to meet more comfortably any changes in business or employment that may result from post-armistice conditions.

Those far-sighted people have taken war, and its unusual opportunities for earning, very seriously; just as they did not expect the war to last always, they have not banked on war conditions in employments enduring indefinitely. They are ready for the future. If wages keep up, they are still so much ahead of the game.

TWENTY PER CENT. INCREASE IN DOMESTIC TELEPHONE RATES.

Increase of 20 per cent. in domestic telephone rates, effective April 1, has been announced by Postmaster Burleson.

The increase was agreed upon at a meeting of the Federal Wire Board, and was made necessary, Mr. Burleson's announcement said, to meet "increased cost of operation occasioned by wage increases now in and to be effective during the year. Mr. Burleson added that the advance would "barely be sufficient" for this purpose.

The order affects both government and commercial messages, but it was announced that there be no increase in special press rates for newspapers or on charges for special wires leased by press associations and newspapers.

Under the order, however, commercial and government leased wires will be charged an advance to twenty per cent. over existing rates, whether such wires be furnished by a telegraph or a telephone system under government control.

STATE TAX COMMISSION IN BUSY SESSION.

Recapitulation sheets from 112 counties have been filed with the State Tax Commission.

The assessment this year of the 112 counties, before the commission made any increases, amounted to $1,597,222,810. The eight counties out had a total assessment for the previous year of $38,862,154 and going on the theory that no increases will be made in those eight counties the total assessment of the year would be $1,636,091,964. Last year the total assessment of the counties was $1,403,978,050.

Those figures show that the assessment this year as made by the State Tax Commission will be an increase of more than $200,000,000.

IMMORTAL FRANCE.

"Dear Generous Benefactor: I come in the name of my mother to thank you for the interest which you are willing to take in a poor little orphan. I am very happy to write you myself to thank you for your generous gift. I will apply myself my very best at school, where I go every day. I would wish that my regretted father would be satisfied with me were he still alive. I am eight years old, I expect to take my first communion very soon. My teacher encourages me very much and he says he is quite satisfied with me, although I am a little talkative. I have a little sister named Jeanne who is four and a half years old. She goes to a nursery. Her mother has to go to work. I take care of her every day at quarter past eleven, and on holidays I take care of her and play with her, also. We love each other very much. Dear benefactor, mother wants me to put our picture, (taken in January, 1918) into my letter. You will read in our eyes all our appreciation and thanks.

"Your respectful little portegé."

IF I WERE A FARMER

If I were a farmer I would keep at hand a few reliable medicines for minor ailments that are not so serious as to require the attention of a physician, such as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains and bruises and rheumatic pains.

By having these articles at hand it would often save the trouble of a trip to town in the busiest season or in the night, and would enable me to treat slight ailments as soon as they appear, and thereby avoid the more serious diseases that so often follow.

TELL IT TO HIM.

Probably you are worrying about just what excuse you are going to offer the Victory Liberty Loan salesman this campaign in refusing to give him your subscription. Maybe you have several excuses, but simply cannot make up your mind which of them is the best.

Don't let it worry you for an instant.

The country is full of soldiers just back from the front. Thousands of them are coming back every week. Some of them are pretty well shot up, suffering from shell shock, weak lunged from having been gassed, still shaky from trench fever, or minus an arm or a leg or an eye.

They know what this war game was. They saw something of what the Hun did for France and Belgium. They have something of an idea what he would have tried to do for America had he ever got over here.

And they would like to know, doubtless, just why any loyal American will refuse to subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan, knowing that the American soldier wrote the death warrant for Prussianism and how he fared in doing it.

This armless, or legless, or sightless, or lungless, or nerveless returned Yank will be glad to listen to your excuse.

Hunt him up and tell it to him.

Try all of them on him.

If you can convince him you should have no trouble with the salesman.

And if you escape with a whole skin you'll subscribe to the loan.

Believe me, boy, you'll subscribe.

Puzzle for the Jury.

Here is a summing up which is hard to beat for succinctness: "Gentlemen of the jury: In this case the counsel on both sides are unintelligible, the witnesses incredible, and the plaintiffs and defendants are both such bad characters that to me it is a matter of indifference how you give your verdict."

Next.

"It may seem a little strange, said the facetious fellow, "but ice is a lot smoother before it is shaved."

ROBERT HINTON SPEEDING ATHLETIC WORK OVERSEAS.

In a highly interesting article from London, England, Mr. Wm. T. Whittemore, special correspondent in the Y. M. C. A. work, tells of the success attained by a former Paris boy, Mr. Robert T. Hinton, in directing and stimulating athletic work among the soldiers overseas. Whittemore says, in part:

"More and more the athletic work of the American Y. M. C. A. for the American soldiers and sailors in the United Kingdom is taking on the aspect of that for a leave aera, which the British Isles practically now are—and nothing more. This does not mean that athletic work will not continue to be a very important part of the Y's activities here, but it will be different in manner and method than heretofore, which in turn was quite different in manner and method than heretofore, which in turn was quite different from the same department of work of the Y in France. There has been more calls for the competitive and spectacular side of athletics which are so generally associated with the work of the Y athletic directors with the army. The manner in which this athletic work has been 'put over' here has been highly satisfactory to the enlisted men and officers.

"This success has been due not only to a well conceived plan of activities, but to splendid personnel of athletic directors who put the plan into execution. No individual is entitled to more credit in carrying out his part of the plan than Robt. T. Hinton, of Georgetown College, Georgetown, Ky., who has been stationed in the Southampton area, one of the largest both in point of territory covered and in the number of troops stationed here, containing as it did big rest camps, aviation camps, hospitals and naval stations. Mr. Hinton entered upon his duties as an overseas war work athletic director well qualified by his own active participation in athletics at Yale and Georgetown. For three years he had been a member of the Yale track team, and for four years a member of the gym team, winning the inter-collegiate all around gymnastic championship in 1902. He had been professor of biology and director of athletics at Georgetown College for 12 years, coaching at football, basketball, baseball and track.

"The fighting men, among whom Mr. Hinton operated were not long in discovering that they had a man who knew the game telling them about it, and from the start the boys were with him heart and soul, making possible the remarkable athletic achievements which he accomplished in a very short time. Just as an example of how fast 'Bob' Hinton works, take one of his recent feats. Just at present Eastleigh near Southampton has about 5,000 American sailors awaiting the arrival of German ships which they are to man and take to the States. It is the biggest station of any kind of American force in the British Isles to-day. Hinton was assigned to this station on January 24, when it had just begun to settle down to something like a permanent naval station of some proportion. Five days later he staged a football game between the teams representing the U. S. S. Nopatin and the U. S. S. Yale, troop transport vessels operating across the English Channel. The game was staged for the benefit of the Southampton War Memorial Fund and something like $250 was realized. Commodore Bartlett, U. S. Navy, the Mayor of Southampton, aldermen of the city, Colonel Swain, United States consul; ladies of the Southampton Welcome Committee, the United States naval band at Eastleigh, and other Americans and Britshers of note united in making the event an international festival.

"Present indications are that 'Bob' Hinton's work will be with his 'gobs' at Eastleigh for something, but one never knows these days and there is great demand for the Y athletic directors who have made good in the U. K. to go on to France and the Rhine land with the army of occupation, so one of these fine days 'Bob' may get his order to advance."

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Look At Tongue! Move Poisons From Liver and Bowels at Once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies; children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly printed on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

"TATERS" WILLIAMS WILL COME BACK AGAIN.

Some days ago Patrolman George W. Judy arrested George "Taters" Williams, well-known in police circles, charged with "bootlegging." Williams, at the time of his arrest, had on his person, in sundry and divers places contraband to the extent of thirteen half-pints and one quart of whisky. In an unguarded moment George took advantage of an opportunity, jumped from the interurban car on which he was proceeding to the basile, and made his escape.

Yesterday Patrolman Judy learned that George had been seen in Winchester by Bourbon county people who recognized him. The Winchester police were communicated with by long distance phone message, and given a description of the fugitive. He was placed under arrest and is being held for Patrolman Judy, who will go to Winchester to-day and return him to this city.

JOHNSON.—The funeral of Miss Abbie Johnson, a former resident of Paris, who died at her home in Lexington, last week, after a short illness, was conducted at the residence of her nephew, Mr. George A. Bain, in Lexington, by Rev. I. J. Spencer. The burial followed in the Lexington Cemetery.

Miss Johnson was a native of Bourbon county, and was a daughter of the late Mr. John Johnson, one of the pioneer residents of the county. She was a sister of Miss Lena Johnson, of Paris, who is very ill of pneumonia. She was also a sister of the late Mrs. Jeptah Butler, of Paris, and Mrs. George W. Bain, of Lexington.

BARNETT.

The funeral of Mr. Charles Barnett, formerly of Paris, whose sudden death at his home near Taylorsville, in Spencer county, was told in THE NEWS, was held in the Paris Cemetery, Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Services were conducted at the graveside by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church.

Among those who attended the funeral were the following from Taylorsville and Spencer county: James Gray, Herbert Howerton, Wiley Rogers, John Thomas, Enoch Downs and James Peed.

A singular fatality seems to follow the family of Mrs. Barnett, three deaths having occurred under unusual circumstances within a year.

Last April, Mrs. Barnett's son-in-law, Mr. B. A. Frank, of Paris, died very suddenly at his home; a few weeks ago her daughter, Mrs. B. A. Frank, of Paris, was fatally burned when her clothing caught fire from an open grate at her mother's home, and very recently her husband died suddenly at the family home near Taylorsville.

CAMPBELL.

The funeral of Mr. Jacob H. Campbell, aged seventy-three, a former resident of the county, who died suddenly at his home in Lexington, last week, was held Sunday afternoon, with services conducted at the grave in the Lexington Cemetery by Rev. F. T. McIntyre. The committal service was conducted by the Lexington Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Campbell was a U. S. Government building inspector, and formerly resided on the Bethlehem pike, near Paris. After disposing of his property there he moved to Norfolk, Va., where he resided until a few months ago. Before coming to Paris Mr. Campbell, with his family, resided at Millersburg. He was a member of the Paris Methodist church, in which he retained his membership to the time of his death.

Mr. Campbell is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ollie Hall Campbell, now residing in Lexington; three sons, Wallace Campbell, of Carlisle; W. F. Campbell, of Madison, Ind.; Capt. Hugh Campbell, with the Power Grocery Co., of Paris, and one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Soper, of Lexington.

Rathbone Lodge No. 12, Knights of Pythias, at a recent meeting, conferred the Knight Rank on E. T. Rule, Morris Stern, C. B. Dickerson, Robert Watson, Rheda Stanhope and Fred Fish. Several applications were reported for membership. The drive for membership, which was inaugurated some time ago, is progressing very favorably.

BUSINESS PORTION OF BIG OIL CITY BURNED.

Fire which originated in the rear of a restaurant in the heart of Ranger, Texas, Sunday night, destroyed practically all of the business section of the town. It is estimated that the property loss will reach $10,000,000.

One unidentified man was killed and several persons injured.

Ranger, which is an oil town, is without water and has no fire fighting equipment.

Ranger is the present residence of Mr. George Keller, son of Dr. A. H. Keller, of Paris, who recently made a big oil strike in the oil region near Ranger.
